The Pier Eastbourne, designed by Mr. E. Birch C.E. was opened in 1872 and in 1902 it was improved and a theatre added at a cost £3,000. At the head of the Pier is a landing stage from which bathing is permitted.

Dear Doris

Mum tells me you thought of coming down for the weekend this week, but I have arranged at the Cinema to go home this week, as I shall have to go now, but I should be ever so pleased to see you next week. Let me know if you can come, & what time I'm to expect you. Much love
Amy.
